"THICK AS THREE IN A BED."--Emigration to the State of Michigan was so great during the year 1855-56, that every house was filled each night with travelers wanting lodging. Every traveler there at that time will remember the difficulty of obtaining a bed in any of the hotels, even if he was willing to put up with two or three strange bedfellows.
The Rev. Hosea Brown, an eccentric Methodist minister, stopped at one of the hotels in Ann Harbor and inquired if he could have a room and a bed to himself. The bar keeper told him he could, unless they should be so full as to render it necessary to put in another with him. At an early hour the reverend gentleman went to his room, looked his door and soon retired to his bed, and sank into a comfortable sleep. Along towards midnight he was aroused from his slumbers by loud knocking at his door.
"Hello, you, there!" he exclaimed, "what do you want now?"--particular stress on the last word.
"You must take another lodger with you, sir," said the landlord.
"What another yet?"
"Why, yes, there is only one in there, is there?"
"One? why here is Mr. Brown and a Methodist preacher, and myself, already, and I should think that was enough for one bed, even in Michigan!"
The landlord seemed to think so too, and left them to their repose.
Col. Alexander Herr, the Union candidate, was on the 14th inst. elected to the office of District Attorney for Dauphin county, Pa.

Bible Society Operations.
To the Friends and Patrons of the Bible cause: It affords me pleasure to announce that the result of my labors for the month just closed exhibits a marked increase in receipts over those of the previous one. Two months only have elapsed since I entered upon the agency of the A. B. S. for this portion of the State. While it is true that there is still a deplorable lack of interest manifested in too many places for the spread of God's word, and the great schemes of human benevolence generally it is equally true that the Bible cause has many warm friends and zealous supporters, and there is abundant evidence that this soil will justify cultivation, and will in time, bear good fruit and much of it.
It will be remembered by most of our bible friends that at the recent anniversary of the American Bible Society, measures were adopted having in view the re-exploration of our entire country for the supply of its destitute masses. No one acquainted with the wants and condition of our home population, can for a moment doubt either the practicability or beneficence of such a scheme. It commends itself alike to the patriot, the philanthropist, and the Christian.
Such is the fluctuating character of our population and the rapid growth of our country--a growth a million and a half a year, and half of this number immigrants from the old world--that repeated explorations are necessary. The fact is yet fresh in the memory of the readers of the Leader, that upwards of five hundred families were found destitute of the Scriptures in Cayahoga county last year. The destitution in many other counties of this state has been found equally great, and in some still more deplorable.
In effecting this work of re-supply the Board of Managers at New York recommend that the work be done mainly by auxiliary societies themselves. For this purpose good and efficient county agents will be needed. It is my hope and aim, with the co-operation of the committees of the county societies, to effect the thorough exploration of every county of my field as soon as possible, for the two-fold purpose of supplying the destitute and raising funds for this needy cause. Arrangements have already been made for this work in several counties. An agent has just commenced the exploration of Lake county, another is operating in Trumbull county and another in Stark county. Ashtabula, Geauga, Columbiana and Summit counties are also provided for, and the work will be commenced at an early day.
I have a word to say to the patrons of our cause in these counties. You will bear in mind that these county agents are not only distributing but soliciting agents. They will find frequent cases where it will be necessary to make grants of books, and although it is highly important that the needy at home should be supplied, yet for the general good of the cause, it would be impracticable to impoverish our auxiliaries to accomplish this object. There are, in many cases, too weak already, and are, virtually, beneficiaries rather than auxiliaries. They want strengthening and fostering, and therefore it is desirable that your contributions to the Bible cause should go through the channel of the county society or their agent. Pastors will also further our cause by co-operating with him in his work.
We are still needing a few efficient men for county agents. Persons well recommended, possessing the requisite qualifications and desiring a "good work" are requested to address the subscriber at Cleveland.
In closing this article a passing acknowledgment is due to the kindness of the President of the C. P. & A. R. R., and to the Superintendent of the C. & P. R. R. for signal favors to our cause, and for the courteous treatment we have ever received at their hands, and from the conductors and managers generally. We rejoice to see the management of our thoroughfares entrusted to men who respect God's word, as well as who spare no pains to administer to the traveler's good feeling and safety, and we take pleasure in recommending the traveling public to such roads.
THOS. C. HARTSHORN,
Cleveland, Oct. 1855. Agent A. B. S.
Resolutions Passed by the Ohio Baptist Convention at Columbus, October 24, 1856.
WHEREAS, during the year past, events unparalleled in our history have taken place in one section of our Republic, and from the reliable evidence [notwithstanding the vigorous efforts to repress it by the severity of a prostituted press] we have the solemn conviction are still being enacted, in which the homes of peaceable citizens have been, and are ruthlessly invaded, property destroyed, virtue violated, lives imperilled, and in many instances wantonly sacrificed; and moreover, the defenceless members of Christ's Church, including his Ministers, have been disturbed in their work and worship, dispersed, and forced to seek refuge by flight, therefore,
Resolved, That as a body of Christian men, we feel called upon to record our solemn protest against these flagrant outrages upon Humanity and Religion, praying as they do the extinction of our most sacred rights of civil and religious liberty.

Resolved, that we recognize in these atrocities inflicted upon our fellow men, some of whom are our brethren in the Lord, the fruits of that gigantic sin--American Slavery--comparable to an oak, which, while its roots strike deep into our southern soil, casts its blighting shadows upon the whole land.
Resolved, That, as Christian patriots, we should be untrue to ourselves not to remember our country in special prayer to God that we may be delivered from the threatened evils of civil war, and the further encroachments of the slave power; and that we should not cease to labor, by all proper means, to hasten the removal of this dreadful evil, and the establishment of Freedom in every section of our land.
The Boarding School Nuisance.
While our sanitary police are engaged in inspecting emigrant boarding houses, the tenant houses of the poor, and in ferreting out the causes of disease in alleys and unventilated courts in cities, equally fruitful sources of ill-health exist amongst our highest classes, producing evils as serious and as lasting.
A few weeks ago we were called to see a young girl suffering from general debility, neuralgic pains, vertigo and headache. She had just returned from a boarding school in a neighboring city, where she had been only a month, when her health, previously good, failed. On inquiry we found the routine of the school to be as follows, and to be certain in of the correctness of her account, we have made inquiries of others familiar with its management:
The pupils rise at five in the morning. They study from five to seven o'clock. From seven to eight o'clock they have breakfast. From eight in the morning to two p. m. is spent in the school room, a period of six hours. At two they have dinner, and from three to five are allowed to walk or take other exercise. From five to six they study; at six have tea, and then study from seven to nine, when they are sent to bed.
Their diet is light and unsubstantial, and their appetites under such a regime are as feeble as the diet.
Now, here the day of a young, growing, spirited school girl is divided into periods of seven hours for sleep, three for meals, two for exercise and twelve for study. Every person under full adult age needs eight or nine hours sleep, and, in order that sleep should be healthful and refreshing, they require at least six hours of recreation and active exercise. The time for meals is sufficiently ample in the instance here mentioned, but to allow only two hours of exercise, and that in the afternoon when heat and fatigue dispose them to rest, is positively murderous. And twelve hours study in the day, is at least five hours too much for any young person.
A child in full, vigorous health will acquire more knowledge in six hours daily, than in twelve, for full health and mental vigor are incompatible with the discipline we have described.
This system of education takes young, robust, romping girls and transforms them to slow, languid, pale, worthless women. To acquire skill on a piano, a little bad French, and a namby-pamby knowledge of a few of the "English branches," they sacrifice health, energy, all capacity for the duties of womanhood, and not unfrequently life itself.---Buff. Med. Jour.
NEW JOURNALS--LOOK OUT.--A counterfeit on the Bank of Georgia, Ohio, is in circulation. The fraudulent note purports to be a two, and is thus described--It is probably from a genuine plate of some bank, as it is well engraved. Vignette, a man and woman separated by an oval design in lattice work, on which is a heavy figure two. The right hand of the man rests on a plow, and the left hand with a very long fore finger, is intending to grasp a rake. The woman holds a distaff in her right hand and a milk pail in her left. On each side of the vignette is figure two, scroll work, with a cupid in the body of the figure two. The end pieces are alike, and consist of a figure two, die work and a fancy female head. The tail piece is a full rigged ship.---Cleveland Leader.
A TIME HONORED RESIDENCE BURNED.--The Louisville Courier says, "The bright light which lit up the heavens so brilliantly on Friday night, denoted the burning in Jeffersonville, of perhaps the only building of historical interest in this vicinity." It was the house in which General William Harrison lived when he was the Governor of the Northwestern territory. In the old frame tenement with its brick basement and weather-stained front, and crumbling time-eaten roof, resided for several years the great Indian conqueror, who came in connection with his victories and many virtues, became a household word throughout the Union. There he ruled that vast portion of our confederacy, known as the State of Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and the territory of Minnesota. Thence he issued his orders; there he received the legislators, and there dispensed that famous latch-string hospitality which in 1840 became so celebrated."

Beautiful Description of a Night Scene.
Hon. Edward Everett, in his lecture at the recent opening of the Dudley Observatory, at Albany, N. Y., said:
I had occasion a few weeks since to take the early train from Boston, and for this purpose rose at two o'clock in the morning. Everything around was wrapped in silence, broke only by what seemed at that hour the unearthly clank and rush of the train. It was mild, serene midsummer's night, the sky was without a cloud, the winds whistled. The moon then in the last quarter had just risen, and the stars shone with a spectral lustre, but little affected by her presence. Jupiter then two hours high, was the herald of the day; the Pleiades, just above the horizon, shed their sweet influences in the East; Lyra sparkled near the zenith; Andromeda veiled her newly discovered glories from the naked eye in the south, the steady pointers, far beneath the pole, looked meekly up from the depths of the North to their Sovereign.
Such was the glorious spectacle as I entered the train. As we proceeded, the timid approach of twilight became more preceptible; the intense blue of the sky began to soften; the smaller stars, like little children, went fast to rest; the sister beams of the Pleiades soon melted together; but the bright constellations of the west and north remained unchanged. Steadily the wondrous tracings of nature unfolded the scenery of heaven; the glories of night dissolved into the glories of the dawn. The blue sky now turned more softly gray; the great watch stars shut up their holy eyes; the east began to kindle. Faint streaks of purple soon blushed along the sky, the whole celestial concave was filled with the inflowing tides of the morning light, which came pouring down from above in one great ocean of radiance; till at length, as we reached the Blue Hills, a flash of purple fire blazed out from above the horizon and turned the dewy tear drops of flower and leaf into rubies and diamonds. In a few seconds the everlasting gates of the morning were thrown wide open, and the lord of day, arrayed in glories too severe for the gaze of man, began his course.
Extract from a Letter written by a Lady residing near Last Island, La.
LAST ISLAND SCENES.--People are recovering in a measure from the effects of the storm. There never was seen in the world a more awful calamity. You would hardly credit what I could tell you concerning it. One of the rescued died with us the other day. A Mr. R., who had been given up as lost irretrievably. A reward was offered for his body and friends mourning for him, when, by the strangest chance, he was discovered. He had floated upon a biliard table and landed upon the marshes, which, on this coast, are as uninhabitable as the sea itself. There, for ten days, he subsisted on snails and one dead rat, which came swimming along too. There, in the blazing August and--not a tree for miles and miles. Not a shrub--nothing but the impassable and impenetrable cane brake, he survived every horror, and lived on lice. In the providence of his unsearchable Maker, he was sought out by one solitary fishing boat and rescued by its humane master, who, doubtless, from the generosity within him, had been cruising about in the hope of doing some chance good. The scene which occurred upon his unexpected arrival home, was truly affecting.

Proclamation.
BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF OHIO.
In conformity with a custom, sanctioned by Legislative Resolves, commended by the practice of my predecessors in the Executive office, and, in itself, highly becoming a Christian People, I SALMON P. CHASE, Governor of the State of Ohio, do hereby designate and appoint
Thursday, the 20th day of November, of the current year, to be observed as a day of PUBLIC THANKSGIVING TO ALMIGHTY GOD, Refraining, on that day from the ordinary avocations of life, let us keep the feast with joyful hearts. Assembling in our respective places of public worship or gathering around our domestic altars let us devoutly acknowledge God as the Gracious Author of every blessing and every benefit. Let us gratefully thank Him, especially for our prosperity and for our security; for our Institutions of Education, Religion and Charity; for the products of our Agricultural and of our Arts; for the intercourse of Commerce for the preservation of Health; for Homes endeared by sweet family affections; for the Mercies of Redemption and for the Hopes of Immortality. Adoring the Divine Wisdom by which our Fathers were guided in establishing the foundation of United Empire in North America, upon the solid basis of Civil and Religious Freedom and the Divine Goodness by which the Institutions of Government which they founded have been transmitted to us their children, let us give thanks for Liberty, guarded by Law, and defended by Union. Confessing humbly, our unworthiness of these inestimable benefits, let us fervently invoke our Father in Heaven to continue them, graciously to us and to our posterity forever. Nor let us forget in our rejoicings or in supplications, our fellow men less happy than ourselves. Of our abundance let us give liberally to those who need; nor let us fail to present before the throne of Infinite Justice, our sincere prayers for the downfall of tyranny, for the deliverance of the oppressed, for the enfranchisement of the enslaved, and for the establishment everywhere of Human Rights and Just Governments. Invigorated by enjoyments and aspirations like these, we shall return, it may be hoped, to the ordinary pursuits of life, with heart more than ever engaged to the performance of every private and every public duty, and more than ever devoted to the advancement of the best interest of our State and our Country and our race.
Given under my hand and the great Seal of the State of Ohio, at Columbus, this [SEAL] 28th day of October, A. D. 1856.
By the Governor, S. P. CHASE.
J. H. BAKER, Sec'y of State
